Terms of Use: This printable pack was created for you to use at home with your child(ren) or with students in your classroom or tutoring setting. Please do not share this PDF between classroom teachers, sell, host, reproduce, giveaway, or store on any other site (including a blog, Facebook, 4Shared, Dropbox, Amazon Inspire, etc.). Thank you!

YOU'LL LOVE

"Are we there, yet?"

If you have older kiddos, you'll love our NO PREP Road Trips Games Pack. It's perfect for K and up!

Find ALL our FREE, Seasonal Preschool Fun Packs on my blog!

They're great for tots, preschoolers, or older learners with delays.

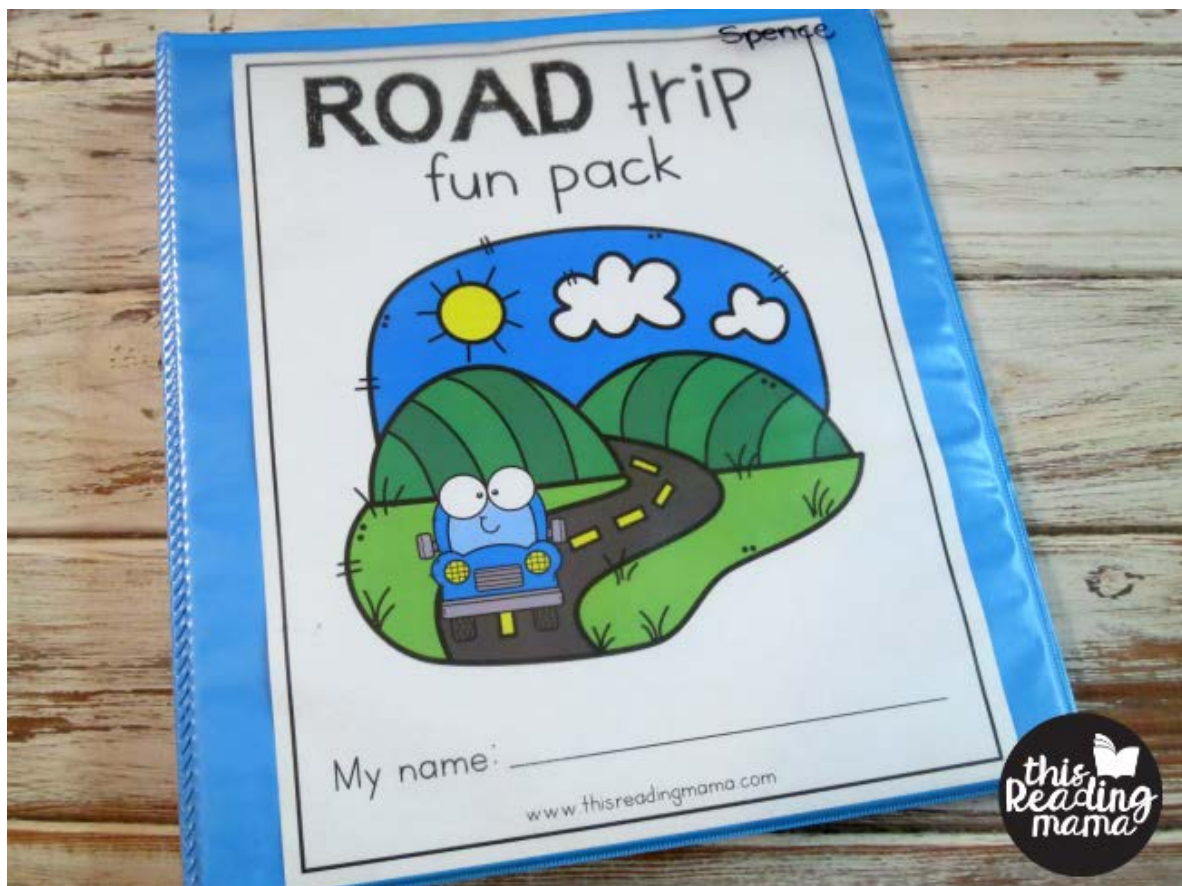

Binder & Cover

I HIGHLY recommend creating a Road Trip Binder for your preschooler. (The blackline cover can be found on p. 37 of this PDF.) Most all the pages are print and go, so you can just slip the pages down in plastic sleeve protectors. Your little one can use washable dry erase marker or washable dry erase crayon to complete the activities on each page.

A black and white line drawing of a whimsical landscape. At the top left is a sun with rays, labeled with the number 4. To its right are two fluffy clouds; the first cloud contains the number 1, and the second contains the number 8. Below the clouds are two rounded hills. The left hill contains the numbers 6, 1, 2, and 7. The right hill contains the numbers 7, 0, 6, and 4. In the foreground, a small, round, two-eyed creature with a large nose sits on a bench, labeled with the number 3. To the left of the creature is a circle with the number 5, and to the right is a circle with the number 2. At the bottom left is a circle with the number 0, and at the bottom right is a circle with the number 8. The entire scene is enclosed in a large, irregular frame. Various small symbols like double dots and short lines are scattered around the frame, possibly representing stars or decorative elements.
