

Hardwick and Felton on Harvard Baseball Board

Special to The New York Times.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., March 30.—Two new members were selected to-day by Robert Emmons Jr., captain of the Harvard nine, for his advisory staff—Huntington R. Hardwick, a football and baseball star when Charley Brickley was gridiron leader, and Samuel Felton, likewise prominent in both these sports. Barrett Wendell Jr., who served on the board for several years, has retired. The remaining members of the committee as it stands now are Drs. Edward H. Nichols and Channing Frothingham and Robert Potter.

The New York Times

Published: March 31, 1921

Copyright © The New York Times