Data protection officer

If you have any questions regarding the protection of personal data related to you and processed by the Statistical Office of the Republic of Slovenia (SURS), or would like to exercise your rights provided by the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR), you can contact SURS's Data Protection Officer at the following email address: dpo.surs@gov.si

Purpose and legal basis for personal data processing

By subscribing to this newsletter, you agree that SURS may collect personal data you provided when you filled in the subscription form. The collected personal data include your first name (optional), last name (optional), and email address (required).

Personal data protection

SURS protects personal data in line with the internal information protection policy. Personal data protection at SURS covers technical and organisational measures and procedures with which:

- roles, authorisations and responsibilities of employees are determined;
- collection, processing, transmission, publication and transfer of data are protected;
- rooms, equipment and documents are protected;
- access of unauthorised persons to equipment and systems on which data are processed or stored is prevented;
- destruction of data after they are no longer used is provided;
- unauthorised destruction or loss of data, their modification or unauthorised processing are prevented.

SURS processes the collected personal data in line with the GDPR so that processing provides the protection of the rights of the individual to whom personal data refer in accordance with the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR).

Users and transmission of personal data

SURS must not transmit personal data to third persons or publish them in any way and must not transmit them to any foreign country or organisation.

Period of storage

SURS stores personal data until you unsubscribe from the newsletter service.

Automated decision-making

SURS does not implement automated decision-making based on personal data collected for statistical purposes.

Rights of the data subject

You may withdraw your consent to the processing of your personal data and to receiving the newsletter at any time and without any cost by clicking the hyperlink for unsubscribing in your email containing the newsletter.

The data subject may demand access to his or her personal data as well as its rectification, erasure or processing restriction, and has the right to object to its processing and the right to data portability.

Right to file a complaint with a supervisory authority

The data subject may file a complaint with the supervisory authority for personal data protection, i.e. the Information Commissioner, at the postal address Dunajska cesta 22, 1000 Ljubljana, and the following email address: gp.ip@ip-rs.si.
